

NOTE

Passé composé is formed like this:

(avoir/être) + (past participle verb)

= passé composé

Always remember that avoir and être must be conjugated in present tense for passé composé. Refer to the "How to use" notes for further detail on each of the above terms.

How to use - avoir and être

Avoir and être are the words that go before the verb in passé composé. You have to decide which one you need to use for the situation and you must conjugate them in present tense. If the verb is VANDERTRAMP (whole body actions), you must use être. Otherwise, you will use avoir
