

Opening

CTRL-W s	: [N] sp[lit]	Horizontal split of buffer
CTRL-W v	: [N] vs[plit]	Vertical split of buffer
CTRL-W n	: [N] new	New empty buffer
	: [N] vne[w]	New empty buffer V* split
CTRL-W ^		Split opening alternate file

:h opening-window

* [N] = height of the new window, default is half the current width or height (depending upon orientation)

Navigate

CTRL-W j	Down
CTRL-W k	Up
CTRL-W h	Left
CTRL-W l	Right
CTRL-W w	Below/right of current
CTRL-W W	Above/left of current
CTRL-W t	Top left
CTRL-W b	Bottom/right
CTRL-W p	Previous
CTRL-W P	Previous, error if none

:h window-move-cursor

Closing

CTRL-W q	closes current window and quits if last
CTRL-W c	Safer quit. (:h CTRL-W_c)
CTRL-W o	:on Makes current the only window on screen Closes others

:h CTRL-W_q

Move

CTRL-W r	Rotate windows down/right
CTRL-W R	Rotate windows up/left
CTRL-W x	Exchange with next/previous
CTRL-W K	Move to very top, full width
CTRL-W J	Move to very bottom, full width
CTRL-W H	Move to far left, full height
CTRL-W L	Move to far right, full height
CTRL-W T	Move to new tab page

:h window-moving

By bradrer

cheatography.com/bradrer/

Not published yet.

Last updated 12th May, 2016.

Page 1 of 1.

Sponsored by Readable.com

Measure your website readability!

<https://readable.com>