

Scope of Protective Services

Uniformed Statutory Protective Services	Non-Uniformed Statutory Services
---	----------------------------------

Required to be in place to maintain law and order, provide emergency assistance and defend the country and its dependencies	Required to be in place to provide essential services to the public
---	---

Emergency Services: police, fire and rescue service	Local authorities: metropolitan borough councils, unitary authorities, town councils, county councils, city councils
---	--

Armed Services: Army, RAF, Royal Navy	Central Government: Schools and education, legal aid, criminal justice systems
---------------------------------------	--

Custodial Care: HM Prison Service	Supporting uniformed non-statutory protective services: Army Reserves, RAF Reserves, Royal Navy Reserves, Special Constabulary
-----------------------------------	--

Supporting statutory protective services: UK Visas and Immigration, NHS, Maritime and Coastguard Agency, Highways England, Ambulance	The difference between a statutory and a non-statutory service is that a statutory service is funded by the government and is set up by the law.
--	--

Difference between public and protective services

Uniformed Protective Services: armed services, emergency services

Public Services: other uniformed public services, non-uniformed public services.

Uniformed Protective Services consist of emergency services and custodial care whereas public service provide support to the protective services.

Purpose of Statutory Protective Services

Emergency Services	Armed Services	Prison Service
To respond quickly and safely to accidents, incidents or emergencies	To defend the UK and its dependencies	Custodial Care
To prevent incidents, including crime, public disorder, fire, accidents and injuries	To support international peacekeeping duties and to support civil authorities	Rehabilitation of offenders

Legal Requirements of other uniformed services

UK Visas and Immigration	Highways England
UK Management	Dealing with accidents
Security of UK borders	Maintaining traffic flow

Legal Requirements of Non-Uniformed

Local Authorities	NHS	Central Government
Responsibility for the economic, social and environmental wellbeing of their area	Delivery of health and care services	Oversee the operation of the civil service, government agencies and departments

Uniformed non-statutory protective services

Voluntary or Third Sector Services

Royal National Lifeboat Institute (RNLI)

Royal British Legion

St John Ambulance

Red Cross

Mountain and Cave Rescue

Non-uniformed non-statutory protective services

Utility Companies

Public Transportation

Charity Organisations

Purpose of non-statutory protective services

Provide services that statutory services cannot or aren't able to cover

Support statutory services; provision by public, private, and third sector organisations

Provide assistance to statutory services in civil contingencies