Interest Rate Terms

APR	A rate designed to help understand the cost of borrowing, including charges as well as interest.
Base rate	An interest rate set by the Bank of England, on which tracker and standard variable rates are usually based.
Capped rate	An upper limit above which the interest on a mortgage is not allowed to rise.
Collar	A lower limit below which the interest on a mortgage is not allowed to fall.
Discounted rate	A rate, typically for a defined period, which is lower than the standard interest rate of the mortgage.
Fixed rate	An interest rate which does not change.
Standard variable rate	An interest rate which changes, typically based on something like the Bank of England base rate.

Types of Mortgage

Cashback mortgage	A mortgage where the initial loan includes some cash as well as the loan for the property.
Current account mortgage	All debts and balances combined into one, so the borrower's balances offset and reduce your debts.
Discounted-rate mortgage	A mortgage where the rate is lower than the lender's standard rate.
Endowment mortgage	A type of interest-only mortgage where the balance is paid at the end of the term via an investment.
Family offset mortgage	A mortgage which allows family members to use their savings to offset the interest accrued by first-time buyers.
Fixed-rate mortgage	A mortgage where the interest rate stays constant for a set period.

Flexible mortgage	A mortgage which allows the borrower to overpay or underpay, or take a payment holiday.
Interest-only mortgage	A mortgage where the borrower only pays the interest on the loan, with the balance still being due at the end of the term.
Joint mortgage	A mortgage with more than one borrower (for example, a married couple might take a joint mortgage together).
Lifetime mortgage	A mortgage where the balance is repaid upon the borrower's death.
Offset mortgage	The mortgage and savings are treated as a single entity, so your savings serve to reduce the interest on your mortgage.
Remortgage	A new mortgage a borrower takes out without moving house, often to improve the interest rate they are paying.
Repayment mortgage	A mortgage where the borrower pay off the interest and the loan each month (as opposed to interest-only).
Sub-prime mortgage	A mortgage offered to someone who doesn't reach typical credit requirements for a mortgage.
Tracker mortgage	The interest rate will follow the Bank of England base rate at a set level above it.
Variable-rate mortgage	The interest rate will follow the standard rate offered by the lender.

Insurance Terms

Buildings insurance	Insurance that covers damage to the structure of the property.
Contents insurance	Insurance that covers damage to the contents of the property.
