- Sprint Review (DEMO)
- Scrum (Mornings)

Product Backlog

The goal of the meeting is to take goals and initiatives, to create user stories and identify their requirements.

Sprint Planning

The goal of sprint planning, is to choose from the product backlog the user stories with the highest business values.
Explain them to the development team, and score the effort of implementations.

Sprint Retrospective

The meeting is to allow developers is to comment on what went well and not well during the sprint, to better and avoid issues during the future sprints.

Sprint Review

The Goal is to present the current sprint to the stake holders, and get feedback and validation for releasing the sprint's work.

Mornings

Goal is to explain what you worked on yesterday, what you are about to work on today, and specify if you are blocked on any task.
