State		Human security > State security	Anything can become securitised system Greed states deterre	without ysocial, economic ence	What about people who's state does not protect them?	Example- energy power expan not Bandy	_		If something a security issue, then dealt with differently territory/Critical theory

Military security (cont)
	Remain outside of military alliances in peace time
	Neutral status accepted in war
Deterrence	Threatens a response that makes action very unappealing
Arms control	, cooperation
	Only works if has capability of retaliation, convince that it would use, clearly communicates boundaries of acceptable

Liberalism
Anarchy
Rational acots
NGOs, IGOs, economic unions, international regimes, etc
Complex states= decisions reflect political system
More than just military power matters (Japan, Germany example)
States mutual dependence - moderate conflict
Democratic peace theory

Military sec	curity
Alliances	Balance
	Bandwagon
	Protect weaker friendly states
	Influencing states, putting internal pressure
Nautrality	Forced neutrality
	Austria - old 1955 neutrality pact
	Finnish neutrality - Soviet Threat
	Sweden - neutrality as more freedom
	Neutrality - legal status

Regime security
Regime security	security challenges faced by regimes in the developing world, unable to provide full support for people living in their states
Global- isation Challanges	socio-economic underdeve- lopment, poverty, famine, violence, and scarce resources, can often result in intrastate war often fail to establish a Monopoly over violence.
Public Security	Social contract - you let state intervene in your life, they have to pay back
	Security is a social good

Relative gains

Regime security (cont)
Structural reasons for no security	Unfavourable climate conditions, resource scarcity
Deliberate conditions	Authoritarian or corrupt regimes
	Nepotistic governments
Internal threats	Alternative organisations/a- ctors (muslim brotherhood) can first help, but then take over (warlords)
Regime insecurity loop	Because cant provide, chose coercive methods of control
	Security dilemma
	Coup-proofing
	Deep states (states not ruled by government, but for example military) Commissarism (secret police)
	Accomodation (to elites)
	Manipulation (putting a front, like Russia and "free elections")

Societal, Ed	conomic and Environmental
Societal	Collective Identity
	Maintenance of ethnic and religious identities
	Threats - repression of iden., lang., educ, cul., etc
	Horizontal competition - change bc forced (SU and russian)
	Vertical competition - pushed to narrower identities (Yugoslavia)
Enviro- nmental	Non-traditional Environmental dangers
Economic	Sanctions - offensive
	The politically motivated denial, or threat of denial, abnormal economic relations with the intent of changing behaviours.
	Trade, finance, aid

behaviours.
	Trade, finance, aid
Coercive Diplomacy
When?	Full-scale war or CD
Deterrence vs CD	Deterrence - keep doing. CD - change behaviour
	CD must leave a choice LIMITED FORCE no ground
	Not the amount of force, but how it is communicated

Schelling	Coercive diplomacy - threats of limited force (sticks) + inducements (carrots)
George and Simons' - most important	Asymmetry of motivation - motivated enough to keep pressure
	Sense of urgency
	Opponent's fear of escalaton
	Clarity on precise terms - specific demands (Russia Crimea bad)
Jakobsen "- Ideal Policy"	Threat to defeat quickly with little costs
	Deadline
	Inducements (both sides must get something)
	Assurance against future demands
Success?	Only if limited force and not escalation to brute force
	Temporary, long term - negotiations likely Weapons of Mass Destruction
MAD	Mutually assured destruction - not credible
	Flexible response after 1967
