

Naming Conventions

Use the correspondent initial letter:

- X for the vertical add-on
- Y for specific e-THEMIS development
- Z for customer development

Be explicit in the use of names. Example:
for a site field, use YFCY or YSITE, not YS1.

Global variables

As standard, global variables start with G.

In specific coding, so as not to overwrite existing variables, use the following: GY + explicit variable name (example GYSTOFCY).

At the end of processing, remember to destroy the global variable using the Kill instruction, if it is no longer used outside of the context.
