

FileSystem Operations

df -h	Shows all filesystem
mount	mount a Volume
umount	hide the Volume
lsblk	map of the filesystem
dmsetup ls	display unique number for any volume

Logical Volume Manager

pv create	create a logical volume from physical v.
pvs	display Physical v. list
lvs	display logical v.
pvt	IDK
lvresize	increase memory of a logical, -r physical increaze.

Connection

netstat -a	active connections list lsof -Pp <pid> (for any db process) grep LISTEN	to find the port of the DB netstat -ap[manca altro] grep LISTEN	ci da anche tutte le connessioni enstrablished and closed

Users and Auth

su <nome utente>
su - <nome utente>
sudo <nome comando> w nohup <comando>
nohup <comando> > <file name>

Other useful things

alias	to show all the alias alias <command> <new>	add a new alias to launch the command unalias <original command>	remove all alias fot the command crontab

Services

systemctl -a	list of services and status systemctl start <service>	start the service systemctl stop <service>	stop the service journalctl -fu sshd.service	see the log of a specific service systemctl enable <service-name>	systemctl enable configures the system to start the service at next reboot systemctl disable <service-name>	systemctl enable configures the system to stop the service at next reboot systemctl daemon-reload	after any change to update

By fbottarelli
cheatography.com/fbottarelli/

Not published yet.
 Last updated 7th March, 2023.
 Page 1 of 1.

Sponsored by CrosswordCheats.com
 Learn to solve cryptic crosswords!
<http://crosswordcheats.com>