

part 1

python -m django -- version	You can tell Django is installed and which version django- admin startproject mysite	Creating a project python manage.py startapp polls	Creating the Polls app
url() argument: regex	Note that these regular expressions do not search GET and POST parameters, or the domain name. For example, in a request to https://www.example.com/myapp/ , the URLconf will look for myapp/. In a request to https://www.example.com/myapp/?page=3 , the URLconf will also look for myapp/.

python manage.py migrate	looks at the INSTALLED_APPS setting and creates any necessary database tables according to the database settings in your mysite/settings.py file and the database migrations shipped with the app (we'll cover those later). You'll see a message for each migration it applies.
python manage.py makemigrations polls	you're telling Django that you've made some changes to your models (in this case, you've made new ones) and that you'd like the changes to be stored as a migration.
python manage.py sqlmigrate polls 0001	The sqlmigrate command takes migration names and returns their SQL:
python manage.py check	this checks for any problems in your project without making migrations or touching the database.

part 3

?P<pk>	is a Python extension to the standard regex syntax. It means assign the results of this group (bounded by parens) to the variable name inside. In this case, assign the regex result to pk. https://teamtreehouse.com/community/help-me-understand-ppk
The template system	The template system uses dot-lookup syntax to access variable attributes.

part 4

forloop.counter	indicates how many times the for tag has gone through its loop except (KeyError, Choice.DoesNotExist)	https://stackoverflow.com/a/18785197/6740377
HttpResponseRedirect	takes a single argument: the URL to which the user will be redirected# Always return an HttpResponseRedirect after successfully dealing # with POST data. This prevents data from being posted twice if a # user hits the Back button.
