

VTP

vtp domain CCNA	selects the domain for the network vtp mode server / client	sets the mode of the device vtp password cisco	passwords for the vtp domain show vtp status	verification command for vtp vtp mode transparent	set a device into transparent mode

LACP

Configure LACP between two switch switch- hport mode trunk	in a interface range switch- hport trunk native vlan 99	set native vlan chann- el-group 2 mode active / passive	set ports as active. on one switch active and on the other passive. commands above are the same on both switch

Configuration 1

Pictures provided by Kilian Stöckler

VLAN

vlan 10	create vlan with the number 10 name Manage- ment	assign name to the previously created vlan show vlan brief	verify vlans switchport mode access	set an interface to access mode to join vlans switchport access vlan 10	put interface into a vlan

DTP

switchport mode dynamic desirable	create a dynamic trunk (you need to be in an interface to do this) show interfaces trunk	verify existing trunks switchport mode trunk	create a static trunk switchport trunk native vlan 99	set the native vlan of a trunk

Configuration 2

PAgP

channel-group 1 mode desirable	set a range of interfaces into desirable mode channel-group 1 mode auto	set a range of interfaces into auto mode show run interface f0/3	verification command show etherc- hannel summary	show all etherc-hannels

Other verification commands show ip interface brief	show overview of all interfaces show ip route	show all routes show vlan brief	show overview of all vlans and the ports in it show interface trunk	show all trunks tracert [ip]	show if hops to an ip are correct

Configuration 3

