

Command Key			Shift Key			Alternate Graphic Key
On Linux	On Mac	On Windows	On Linux	On Mac	On Windows	On Linux	On Mac	On Windows
Control	Command	Control	Shift	shift	Shift	Alt	option	Alt
Ctrl	⌘	Ctrl	⇧	⇧	⇧
Ctl	cmd	Ctl
Execute commands in applications and in the system, serving as a shortcut for those commands. The primary modifier key, meaning that: when used on its own, it will execute the most standard form of the core command/action; and when combined with other modifier keys, they will extend or trigger special forms on the core command/action.			Shift to the upper layer of the keyboard, where the capital letters and other 'upper characters' reside. Combined with other shortcut key sequences, it extends or complements the actions of the standard shortcut key, accessing other layers/modes of that command/action.			Function Key <table><tr><th>On Linux</th><th>On Mac</th><th>On Windows</th></tr><tr><td>Fn</td><td>fn</td><td>Fn</td></tr><tr><td colspan="3">hardware special functions features</td></tr></table> Interface Key <table><tr><th>On Linux</th><th>On Mac</th><th>On Windows</th></tr><tr><td>Super</td><td>control</td><td>Windows</td></tr><tr><td colspan="3">hardware special functions features</td></tr></table>			On Linux	On Mac	On Windows	Fn	fn	Fn	hardware special functions features			On Linux	On Mac	On Windows	Super	control	Windows	hardware special functions features
On Linux	On Mac	On Windows
Fn	fn	Fn
hardware special functions features
On Linux	On Mac	On Windows
Super	control	Windows
hardware special functions features
Control Key			Caps Lock Key			Alternate Key
On Linux <sup>1</sup>	On Mac	On Windows <sup>1</sup>	On Linux	On Mac	On Windows	On Linux	On Mac	On Windows
Control	Control	Control	Caps Lock	caps lock	Caps Lock	Alt	option	Alt
Ctrl	^	Ctrl	⇧	⇧	⇧
Ctl	ctrl	Ctl
The real control key is only active during terminal sessions Inserts Control Chareacters			This is a contextual key that triggers special functions or characters related to the current workspace. Combined with other shortcut key sequences, it will access context-related modes/versions of the standard shortcut action/command.

