Whats with the Persian Theory?

Whats better about PT?

there is a celebration of 10 Muharram in Bengkulu and West Sumatra known as the Tabot Tradition, where the tradition is to commemorate the grandson of the Prophet Muhammad SAW, Husain bin Ali, this is also known in Persia.

there found similarities to the tombstones of Malik al-Salih and Maulana Malik Ibrahim's graves, which have similarities to the tombstones in Persia.

some books contain Persian vocabulary, which was absorbed into Malay whats PT weakness then?

the existing evidence is still doubtful

Iran is also not a center for the spread of Islam, and there are not as many Iranian traders in Indonesia as from China, India or Arabia.

Whats with the China Theory?

Samudra Pasai Sultanate

The first Islamic kingdom in Nusantara

Located on north beach Sumatra (Aceh), near Perlak (Malaysia).

founded by Meurah Silu; Sultan Malik Al-Saleh around 1267

historical sources:

Marco Polo news (1292) and Ibn Battuta news (1304-1368), Hikayat or Chronicle of the Kings of Pasai, Inscription on the tomb of Sultan Malik Al-Saleh.

background

The purpose of establishing this kingdom is to dominate the spice trade, especially pepper abundant in Indonesia.

The Hikayat Raja-Raja Pasai tells the origin of the naming of the kingdom on the northern coast of Sumatra. Some people believe that the word Samudra comes from Sanskrit which means sea. The word Pasai is believed to have come from Parsi, Parser, or Pase.

Aceh Sultanate

Proofs that Islam Influence Exist 'till Now

Whats with the Mecca Theory?

What about MT?

the similarities between the mazhab in Arabic and in Indonesia, which use the Shafi'i the title of the kings of Pasai was al-Malik, not Shah or Khan as was the case in Persia and India

In the Hikayat Raja-raja Pasai written after 1350, it is stated that Shaykh Ismail came from Mecca via Malabar to Pasai and converted to Islam his king, Merah Silu, who later became Malik al-Salih

This theory also refutes the Gujarat Theory, which states that the influence of Islam in Indonesia came from Gujarat, India

Well, what makes MT weak?

lack of facts related to the role of the Arabs in the process of spreading Islam in Indonesia which leads, the evidence is less strong than other theories

Whats with the Gujarat Theory?

China Theory evidence?

strong influence of Chinese culture and traditions on the culture of southern Sumatra.

In addition, Raden Patah, the founder of the Kingdom of Demak, is of Chinese descent from his mother's line.

Other evidence is the discovery of mosques in several cities in Indonesia with Chinese architecture. for example, Masjid Cheng Ho on Surabaya.

there is a record of writing the titles of Islamic kings written using Chinese terms

How is that weak evidence?

Chinese theory does not explain the early entry of Islam into the Nusantara.

The Chinese theory only explains the role of China in reporting that contains evidence that Islam has come to the Nusantara.

Empires of Islam in Indonesia

no.	what?	when?	where?
1	Samudra Pasai	XI century	Sumatra's north beach

Whats good on GT?

From India there are also many who spread Islam

Another evidence is the discovery of the tomb of Malik As-Saleh and in the tomb, his tombstone is similar to the pattern of tombstones in Gujarat.

In addition, Hurgronje's opinion is supported by the oldest inscriptions on Islam in Sumatra which indicate the relationship between Sumatra and Gujarat.

Whats wrong with GT?

Gujarat theory is the difference in mazhabs, where the Samudra Pasai Kingdom adheres to the Shafi'i, meanwhile Gujarat Muslims mostly adhere to the Hanafi.

Another weakness of this theory is that during the Islamization of Samudera Pasai, Gujarat was still a Hindu kingdom at that time

Addition I forgot to mention

Islam has a strong influence, even on Indonesian society.

The influence of Islamic culture affects people's daily life, as in tradition or custom that held constantly.

Fun fact, Samudra Pasai is the starting point of Islam, and the most successful too!

Samudra Pasai Cond.

Economy

Paths of Islam Spread in Indonesia

Commerce Path the merchant while trading participate in spreading their religion to the folks around.

Marriage Path Merchant marries their relatives to the Nusantara folks or natives, so they can convert to Islam right after the wedding.

through Education The increasing development of Islam encourages the emergence of scholars and preachers to spread Islam through education.

through Tasawuf Teaching Islam combined with other mystical beliefs, such as by hikayat.

through Dakwah spread Islam through wali songo da'wah. (Sunan Gresik, Sunan Gunung Jati, Sunan Ampel, Sunan Giri, Sunan Bonang, Sunan Kudus, Sunan Kalijaga, Sunan Muria, Sunan Drajat).

through Arts arts, such as wayang (Sunan Kalijaga), gamelan (Sunan Bonang), and gending (songs).

Steps and factors of spreading Islam are rather easy, which are:

- say the shahada,
- simple praying procedures,
- Islam does not recognize social layers or kasta.
