SSH configuration

configure terminal
hostname SW1	hostname definition ip domain name test.local	domain name definition crypto key generate rsa	choose a minimum 1024 key length ip ssh version 2 username <name> secret <password>	user and password for SSH access line vty 0 4	select lines with SSH access transport input telnet ssh login local switchport security

configure terminal
interface interface_name	choose interface for setting security switchport mode access	security only available in mode access switchport port-security ?	list of available options aging mac-address maximum violation
switchport port-security maximum 1	only 1 permitted device switchport port-security mac-address ?	list of available options H.H.H allowed device mac-address forbidden denied device mac-address sticky memorize current connected device switchport port-security violation ?	list of available options protect does not allow restrict does not allow and log violation shutdown dows not allow and turns off port switchport port-security	to activate after setting security switchport security (cont)

shutdown && no shutdown	The only way to restart a shutdowned port show mac address-table	display of MACs memorized by switch. MACs are erased if they do not send packages for more than 5 minutes show port-security	general display of port security settings show port-security interface e0/0	detailed display of a specific port's security show port-security address	show MACs memorized in security mode copy run start	to make memorized MACs permanent between switch restarts

C

By teodor cheatography.com/teodor/

Not published yet.
Last updated 10th June, 2019.
Page 1 of 1.