Case Studies

Affirmative Action:

Empowering Colombian Women - one of the longest armed conflicts in Latin American took place in Colombia, leading to women becoming mobilised and have influenced new laws and policies. Colombia now has more women in decision-making positions than ever before. Girls' enrolment in secondary and tertiary education exceeds that of boys. Women's participation in the labour force has also increased. A number of factors helped bring these changes about: legal reform and greater political opportunities for women, growth of women's social movements, international support for women's organisations, improvements in social and economical conditions. However, this progress has benefited well-educated urban women, whereas many rural women remain illiterate, poor and experience gender discrimination, often in forms of violence

Diaspora:

Chinese diasporas - 5.5% of the Australian population identifies with having Chinese ancestry, from the 2021 census, most living in large cities (Sydney). Originally, Chinese groups migrated during the gold rush, now migrants come for english education or jobs. Chinese traditions and culture has become present in the celebration of Chinese New Year and Chinatowns

Restriction of Freedom:

China - surveillance in China restricts freedom of locals.
