Dress business casual if you work in a profession al setting, such as a bank or office. Dress business casual if you work in a non- profession al setting such as a bank or office. Dress business casual if you work in a non- profession al setting such as in retail, in a	Business formal usually means wearing a suit, tie, dress slacks, and dress shoes. Business casual should still look professional but does not require you to wear a suit and tie. If you're still wearing clothes that scream "student days" you're going to be treated like a boy with no experience in the real world. Buck the trend, age your look a little, and get the respect you deserve from older men.	Own your style	You have to express your own style because nobody likes a person that is copying somebody else. Friends will be the first	Be yourself !	You shouldn't care too much about how you look in the presence of your friends, in the end they are your people.
Find colours that work for you	good looks, whereas, wearing the wrong colors will be unflattering. As a rule, bright red, pale pink, teal, and eggplant, look good on all skin types See relevant info about that here :			Don't pay attention to their critiques, unless they have a motive If you have really close friends,b usiness partners, or a group	who notice that. We all know that friends say bad things about us sometimes. You don't have to listen to their critiques and just dress however you like . But in some cases you need to pay attention to their motive, the next tip will be relevant in from this point of view. Make sure that all of your outfits are on point, let's say you go somewhere together. This will increase the chances of people to look at you from a positive perspective	In the clu Don't wear your nicest clothes.	And let's be honest: no one's really going to appreciate the subtle lilt of your cashmere windowpane sports coat — not in this light, and
